

I live in a town of about 1000 people. We live so far out in the woods of deep east texas we can not get a radio station without static. We travel in my job to the bigger cities to do work for our clients in construction and I do not know the local stations or what times they will report a traffic or weather report. I need to know because it helps me schedule projects and tasks. I can turn on the XM radio and just like that I have the information that I need. Where would we be without the internet today? XM satellite radio is making a difference. Do not limit or take down this great technology in anyway. You need to worry about all the cursing and swearing on talk radio and rap stations that are out there for young ears to hear. Yes, I do turn the radio station when I hear that come on. But I am not always around my children 24hrs a day. Work on things you need to work on.
